When the Earth Ate People

Korah was a creep, with creepy friends. He led Dathan and Abiram in a rebellion against Moses that ended up with thousands dead. Numbers 16 tells the story in detail.

Psalms 106 gives the cliff notes: Ps 106:16 (MSG) "One day in camp some grew jealous of Moses, also of Aaron, holy priest of God. The ground opened and swallowed Dathan, then buried Abiram's gang. Fire flared against that rebel crew and torched them to a cinder." Bad day.

Korah's sons survived (Num 26, I Chr 9, 26). Evidently, when Moses told the people to move away from Korah - his sons moved. They left dad to follow Moses. Later their descendents became musicians for God's temple. They even wrote a number of the Psalms (Ps 42, 44-49, 85, 87-88).

"Choose you today who you will serve...as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord." Joshua 24
